To Whom It May Concern:

For the past several months, my husband and I have been working with Waldmann Construction, Inc. located in St. Germain, Wisconsin to build our home. From day one, the Waldmann team treated us like family. The level of communication between the project manager, supervisor, and design team was outstanding. They provided answers to solutions quickly. They consistently demonstrated knowledge and expertise which inspired a great level of trust from the start.

Recently retired, it was our wish to create a lakeside home with a historic exterior and a meld of rustic warmth and modern touches inside. What we appreciated most about the Waldmann design team was their keen ability to listen. They were able to guide us through all of the decisions that needed to be made taking a sincere and genuine interest in the style and function of all the spaces in our home. They were respectful of our ideas and budget. As an example, we were able to harvest and mill oak from our property using it for ceiling beams, fireplace mantle and accent walls throughout the home. The Waldmann team assisted in setting up the resources needed to ensure the oak would be processed and ready to install as per the project timeline. The team did not hesitate to bring alternative options for discussion during regularly scheduled design meetings. Issues were discussed and resolved quickly. They paid attention to the smallest of details which really added to the lake house feel we were looking for. The designer was 100% spot on with design choices. We trusted her implicitly.

The project supervisor did a phenomenal job. He set high standards for his team and expected perfection. He and the designer worked seamlessly together. Contracted teams were scheduled well in advance to ensure the build progressed as scheduled. He was always prepared for meetings and the build site was clean and organized. One of the things we appreciated most about the construction team was their keen ability to get answers to our questions quickly often receiving a response within a few minutes. We did some of the painting and staining ourselves to help with the budget. The project supervisor always kept us informed as to time schedules for what needed to be done to keep things moving. The woodwork inside our home has a solid, quality feel to it from the cabinetry drawers, smooth glide of the pocket doors, interior trim, staircase and bookshelves. The masons did a phenomenal job with the stone fireplace from distributing the colors of the stone in an eye pleasing way to cleaning up after the install. On the exterior, the open cedar ceiling of the porch surrounding the house is one example of the attention to detail made by this team to ensure we had the classic look we were shooting for. The carpenters, cabinet makers, painters, masons and landscapers showed exceptional skill and craftsmanship on our project. When on site they were always pleasant and professional. We had a positive connection with each and every one of them.

As we are now close to the completion of our build, we can say with confidence that we are extremely satisfied with the construction of our home. It was a pleasure working with the Waldmann team. I would highly recommend them to anyone interested in building a new home. Job well done!

Sincerely,

S & K
